Classes

Deep thinkers study one of the world's greatest present-day evils—
Communism.

Not only how————

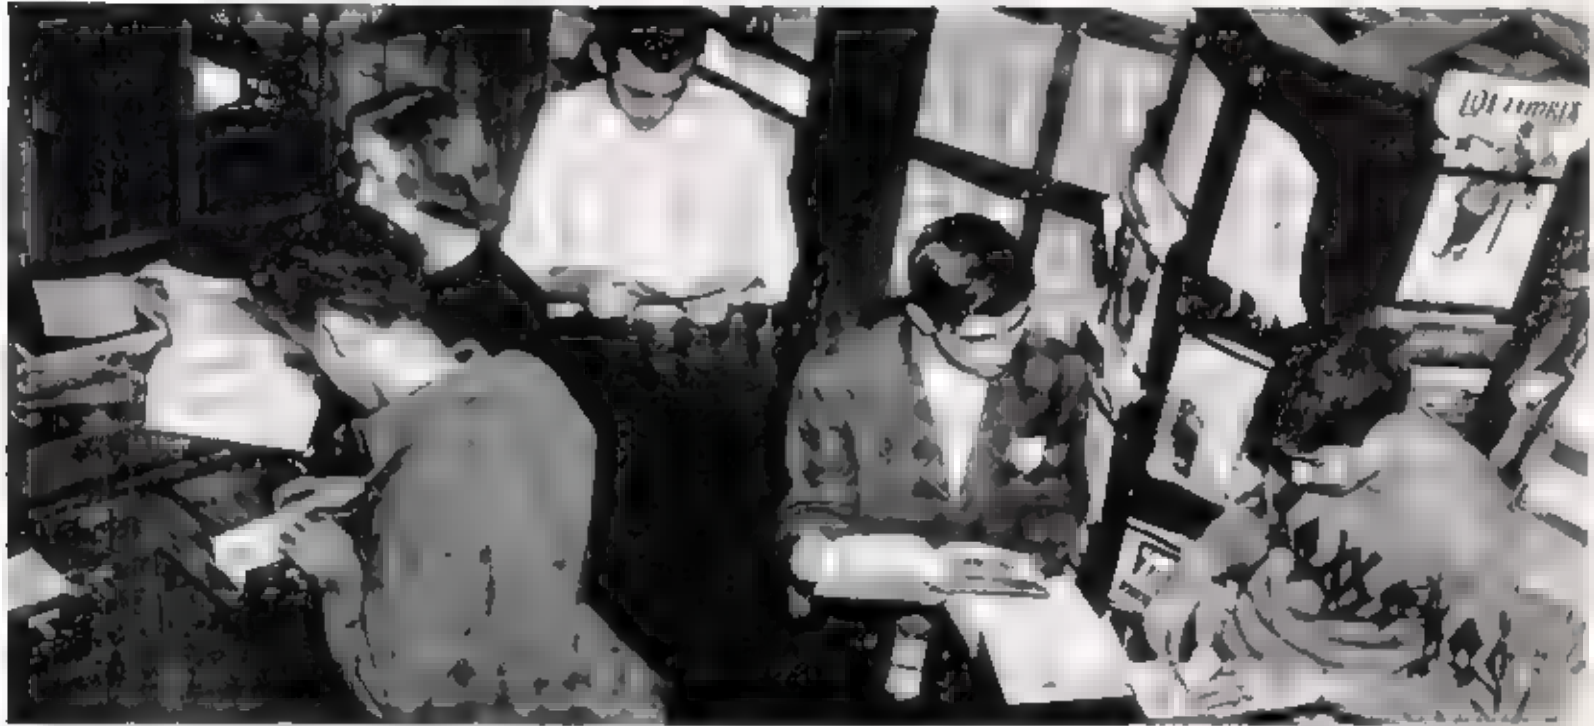

. . . to make a living, but how to live; this is one of the principal reasons for Catholic education. Through the religious instruction given at St. Wendelin, our Catholic youths are prepared for the unending battle between right and wrong.

What do you think are the results of this quiz in religion III?

Our Library

... is our pride and joy. It is equipped to fill the needs of a school many times the size of our high school.

These seniors are looking for worthwhile information for their term papers. And what a variety of topics they did choose! Pictured here are A. Ritzler, J. Huth, B. Lichtle, V. Brown, and M. Geoghegan.

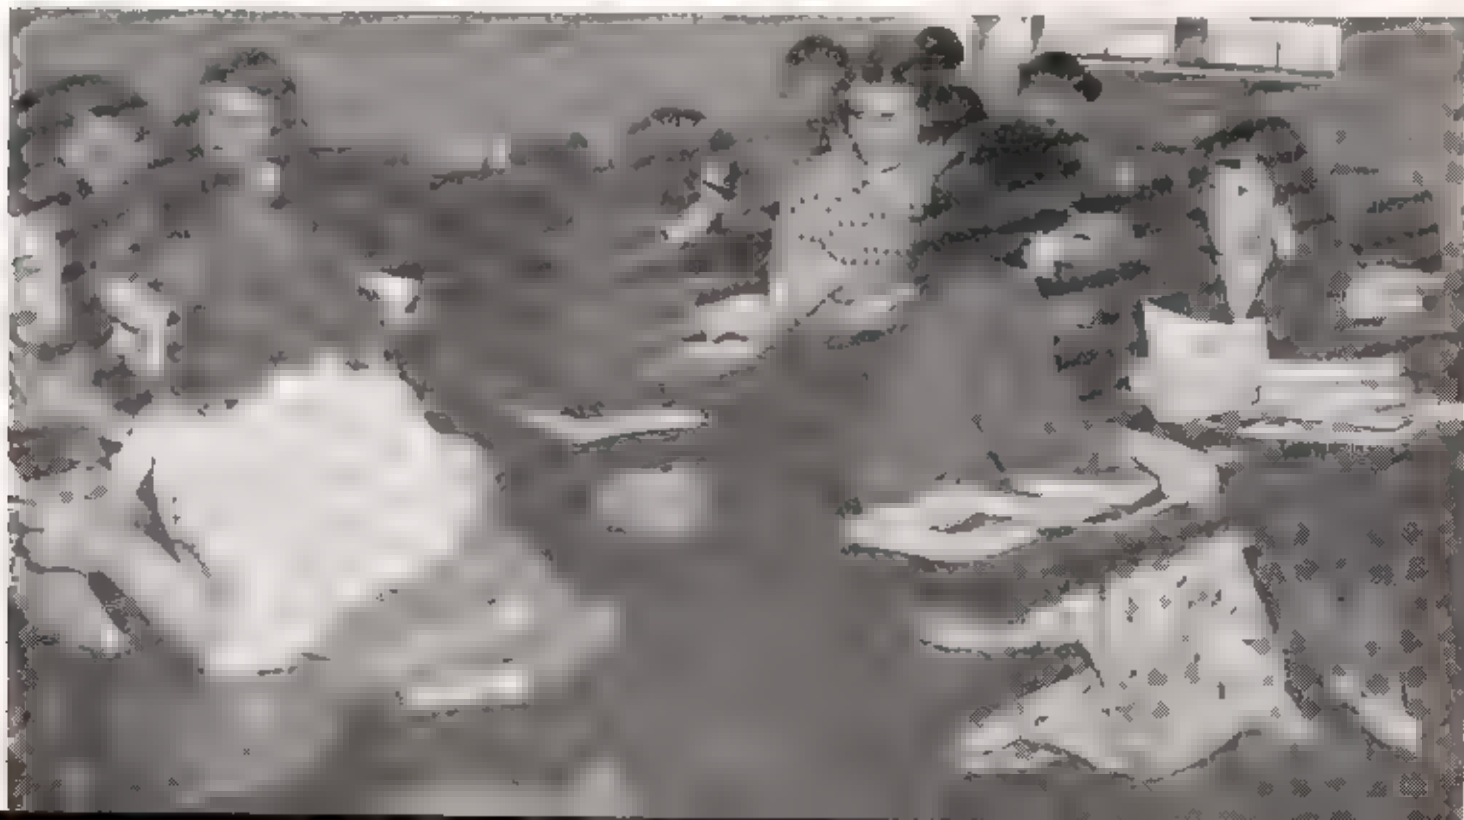

This group of sophomores are giving their preliminary audition for Book Week. They likewise gave the same program over WFOB.

I. Pocs, J. Ledwedge, and J. Patterson murder the "sleep-walking" scene from MACBETH. J. Kramb and R. Cervantes, as Banquo and Macbeth, interviewed the wilches, portrayed by M. Good M. Schaulk, and M. Cervantes.

That's right, freshman Latin students. Better study those vocabulary lists because there will be a quiz as soon as the bell rings for class to begin.

M. La June, C. Gutierrez, and M. Cervantes stand at attention after their Spanish exercises have been placed on the blackboard. Cuca and Margarita are typically Spanish so you can judge the caliber of the class accomplishments.

The Basis For Culture

. . . is language. Through our study of languages we can more easily appreciate the history, life, and culture of other nations. Latin gives us a thorough foundation for our own English grammar. The Spanish department is especially fortunate in having Spanish-speaking students enrolled.

Father Walz doesn't only teach that "Gaul is divided into three parts"—Those are Latin translations of school cheers!

This is a Modern history class in session. Note that keen look of interest on the faces of these sophomores.

These are freshman boys, as you can almost guess. Their subject? ANCIENT history.

Some students go down in history—while the American history classes go up!

History . . . Why?

. . . Live and learn! Yes, but why not learn to live from the lives of others. It is our duty to help make our world a better world because of us. Others, too, have tried; others, too, have made their mistakes. During our history courses we not only find out what man has been doing these past hundreds of years, but we also find out what he shouldn't have done.

Hey, Chuck, what are you showing Carolyn? Your farm?

Over the shoulder of Dot Gillig you can discern shorthand notes. She and the other members of her class skim over their Gregg about as lightly as "Dot" runs up and down the piano keys.

The Commercial Course

... is probably the most practical of courses for many of us. By means of intensive training in typing, shorthand, commercial arithmetic, bookkeeping, we are prepared to fill positions in the business world. We may not immediately become the ones who hire, but we ARE the kind who are HIRED.

Busy fingers—the sophomore girls begin typing.

And just look at the speed of those junior boys!

Here you have an aerial view of Gerry Filiater as her fingers fly over the keyboard.

Debits, credits, trial balances, journal entries, posting, and what not? All this and more is a daily source of interest to the bookkeeping class.

This intelligent group of seniors is trying to solve the world's problems by a discussion. Time will tell if they succeeded.

H. Torres and F. Bugner trying to explain the value of the unknown.

Mathematically inclined juniors are trying to work involved problems with the slide rule.

Circles, triangles, and theorems—all make up a day's work in geometry.

Mathematics

... is not always as simple as "one and one are two." It is often difficult to explain to the incoming freshman just why X is important, yet they find out as the years pass that mathematics is the basis for practically all the sciences.

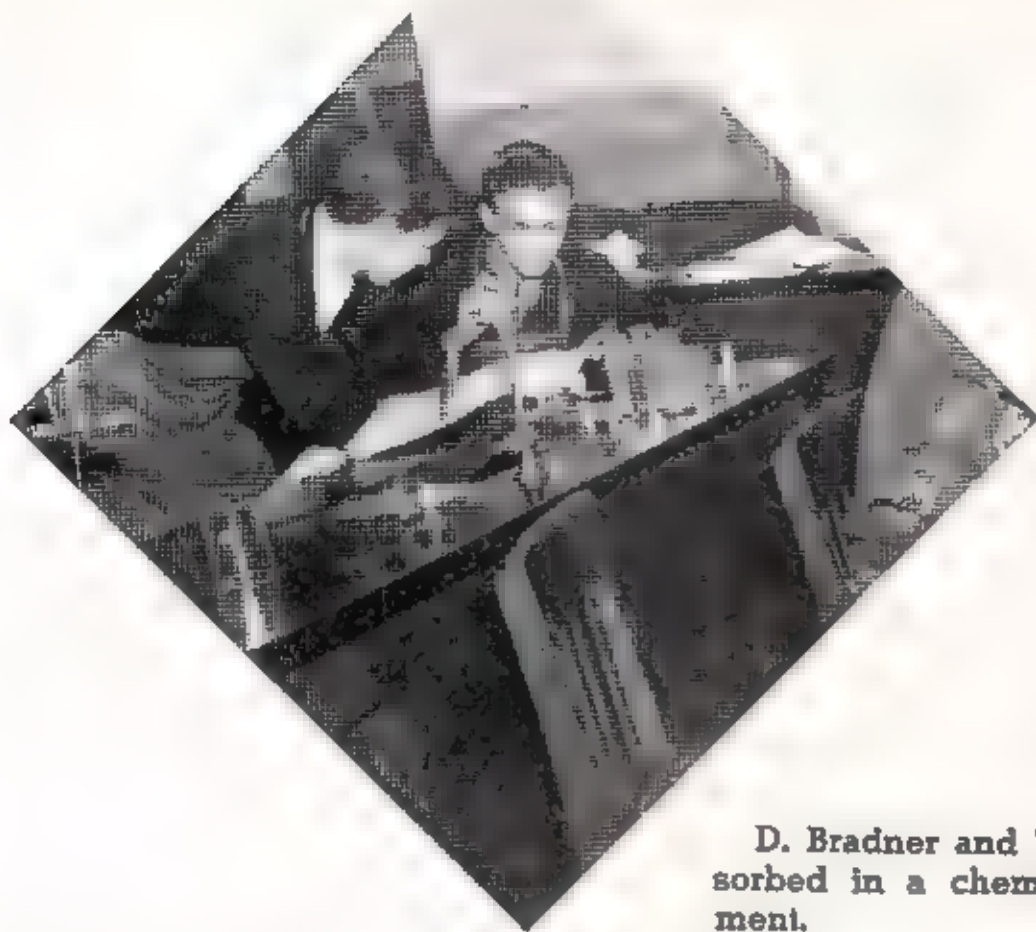

T. Somers, J. Klinepeter, N. Frankhart, T. Stevens.

P. Weber, W. Filliater, G. Kummet, A. Schmitz.

I. Jennings, J. Szczesny, G. Hammer

What?

How?

Why?

What makes us tick? Why does ice float? How do you make H_2SO_4 ? We have a very thorough four-year science course including general science, biology, chemistry and physics. Prospective scientists, engineers, nurses always list their names in these classes.

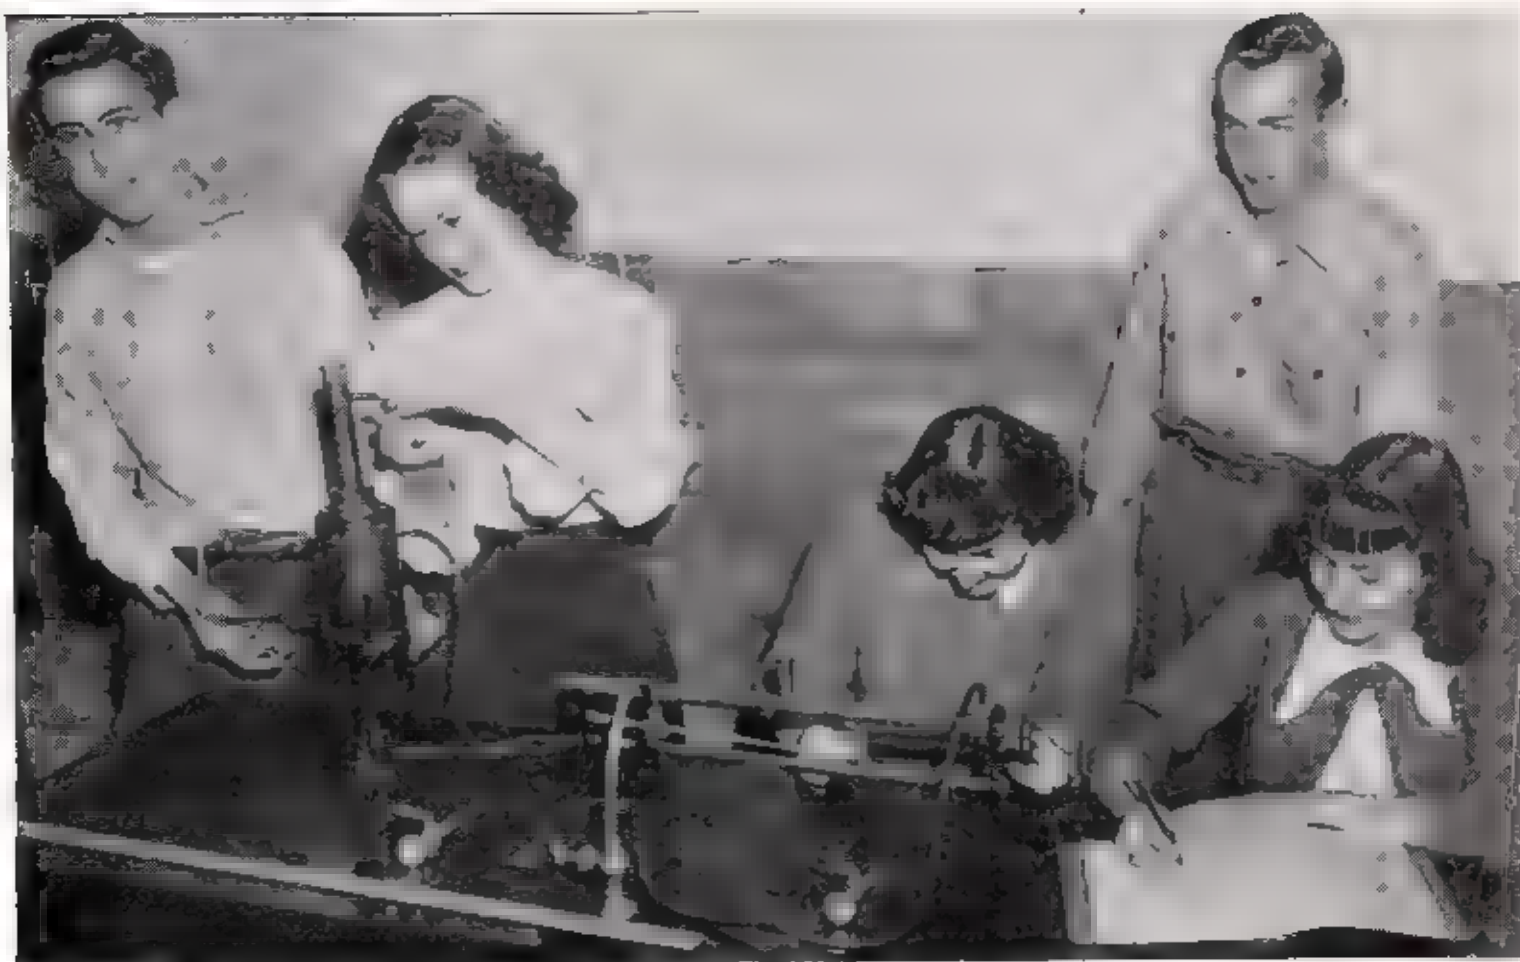

D. Bradner and T. Kramb absorbed in a chemistry experiment.

Watch it, kids! Too much meddling will put our future and yours in the air!

S. Gutierrez, E. Droll, R. Brickner.

Future physicists, Clarence Droll, Shirley Reinhart, Margaret Frankhart, Howard Martin, and Elizabeth Park, work out the coefficient of expansion.

The atom bomb chemists don't have a thing over these students—except the atom bomb.

Tomorrow's engineers in the making (we hope).

Carl Bodart and Paul Dibling going into details over detail drawings of their Spartan compressor unit.

We Could Write A Book

... on our experiences in the drafting classes. First year resembles a kindergarten—what with all the cute paper solids cluttering up the place. Our drafting classes familiarize us with machine parts, blue prints, as well as with the correct technique of tracing and inking, an invaluable asset for engineering in college or for practical information in future jobs.

Betty Shultz is hungry, and Margie Good can only look on.
They model well.

These crisp cotton frocks, modeled by Emma Walters and Charleen Marks, are just right for that warm summer day.

Cuca Gutierrez and Rita Torres are "all dressed up" in their smart suit fashions. Are they Easter ensembles?

Joan Snyder, looking like the perfect model, poses in this lovely brown suit with accessories.

Mary LaJune and Margarita Cervantes are attracted by each other's jerkins.

Homemakers

. . . are trained in our Home Arts courses. These are among the most interesting departments in the school. Dressmaking and general sewing, cooking and baking, table etiquette—every girl tries her hand at these skills. No wonder the training of the feminine element in S. W. H. is not-to-be-beat.

In between times the freshman girls also do knitting.

Lucille Lonsway, Mary Cline, and Margaret Shaull are keeping up-to-date on the latest in fashion wear. Could they be planning their Easter togs?

Corduroy was the fad this year, and Rosina DiCesare's blue dress is well adapted to her material.

All set for dreamland! Mary Jane Park brings the "old style" back in her flowered nightgown

These freshman girls were hostesses at a deliciously prepared Christmas luncheon for the faculty.

And here they learn that "a stitch in time saves nine."

Cookery that will hold the heart of any man!

Activities

September 29th

Carl Reiter, Margarita Cervantes, Edwin Kramb, Julia Ledwedge, and Alfred Ritzler were the class representatives to tender our greetings to Father Walz on the feast of St. Michael.

The Home Art's class said, "Let there be cake"—and a cake was made. Father Walz saw that it was very good; so, too, did Rev. Father Kirsch, Mr. Herman, and Alfie Ritzler. (Note the left background: yon Bob Lamberjack has a lean and hungry look.)

A Wonderful Retreat

Father Westendorf, our retreat master, had the qualities that appealed to all the different types of characters that would be found in a coeducational high school. Not only did his dynamic personality make his talks interesting, but his deep and convincing spirituality led us on to make deeper and more sincere resolutions for improvement.

The Chosen Few

Roll out the red carpet, and bring along a dictionary. These are they who used their heads and their hands to accomplish something that was worth while. Some good-looking heads, too, if you ask me.

"Ole Man Mose" (Jim Huth) obliges as disc-jockey (3c per record). That's a loyal Shmoo guarding his cave.

Shmoo!

We're all in step! (Don't look too closely.)

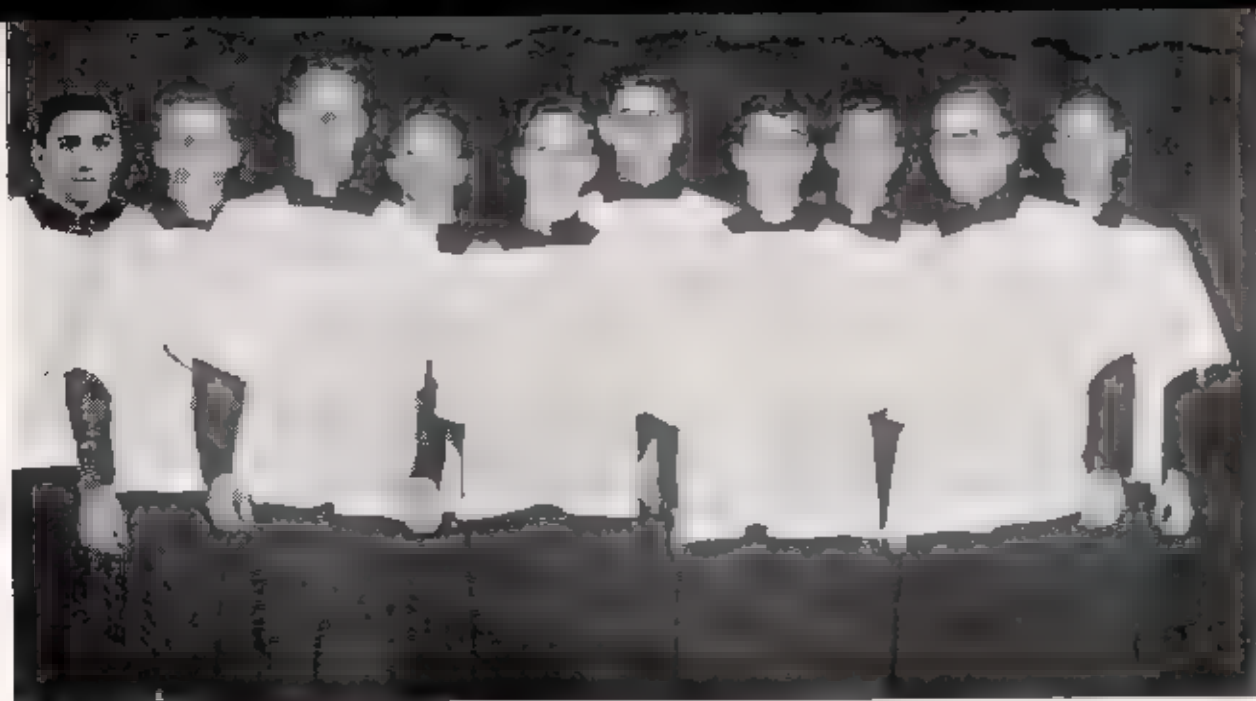

The freshmen met the challenge of initiation bravely. Bill Lichtle feeds a spaghetti "worm" to Frankie Bugner. Don Walters is describing the horrible details of this night of nights to the interested Bobby-soxers.

It Happens Every Year

E. Park, D. Walters, M. Geoghegan,
B. Lichtle, F. Bugner.

LOW, the poor freshmen! We must have been too easy. They actually seem to like it.

Director

Hal Tompkins, organist, glee club director, honor student, and what have you? Hal is one of those people who can do anything. (At least, almost anything.)

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is St. Wendelin High School on the air. Jim Huith is your announcer." Jim, a junior, was the first high school student to broadcast over W.F.O.B. in the school on the air. Had his own program every Wednesday.

Announcer

By the looks on the faces of these seniors you know that they enjoyed the surprise party on Jack Kramb.

Surprise!

Watch Don Walters. We hope that he wasn't cheating at that game of cards.

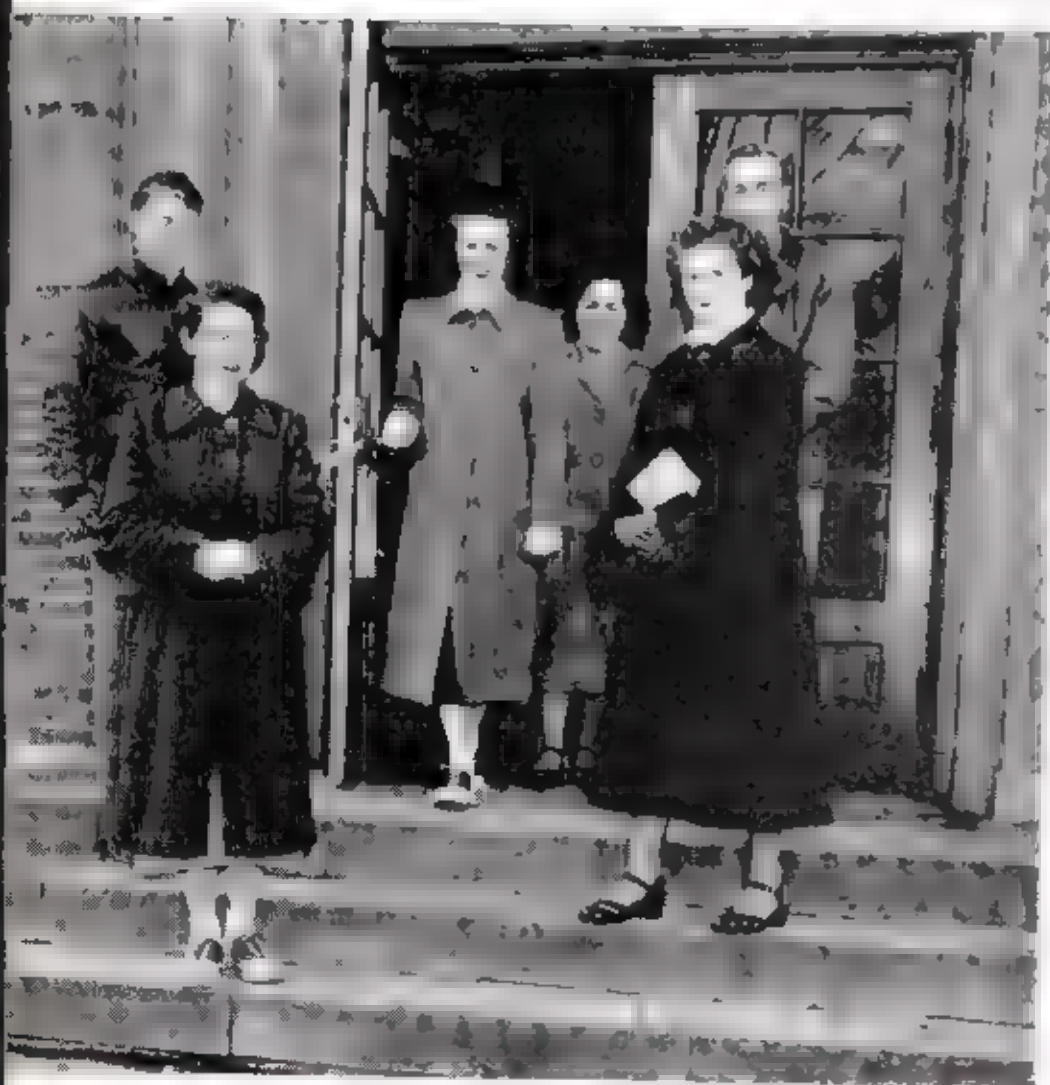

Granpa Kramb entertains two little boys (!), Carlis Bodart and Johnny Patterson, with "Twas the night before Christmas." They are waiting for Santa.

Jingle all the way

Caught in the act, eh, Santa? He's doing a jig with Jane Huth and Mike Geoghegan. Don't let on that you know Bernie Conine is Santa; it might spoil the surprise.

Richard Zeyen, Margaret Shaul, Shirley Reinhart, Anna Mae Kelbley, Howard Martin, Iris Reiter, start out to secure the ads for The Foslin.

Action!

With more lettermen than usual in the ranks, we launched the 1948 grid season with high hopes. These hopes began to sag a little when the first three games were lost. But we knew that those first three games were the heavy end of the schedule. In losing them we were gaining the experience and power and spirit that made us tough for the remainder of the campaign.

We started out with Lima St. Rose who dealt us a 20-0 defeat, thanks to those tall Cardinal end men and our own inexperienced aerial defense. At Fremont St. Joe we were really in the driver's seat when the half ended 13-13. Everything was going fine until an unexpected fumble turned the tide and Fremont piled on two quick touchdowns to end the game 25-13. Calvert was just too tough, and the Tiffin boys deserved their 27-0 win even though we set off some fireworks of our own the second half.

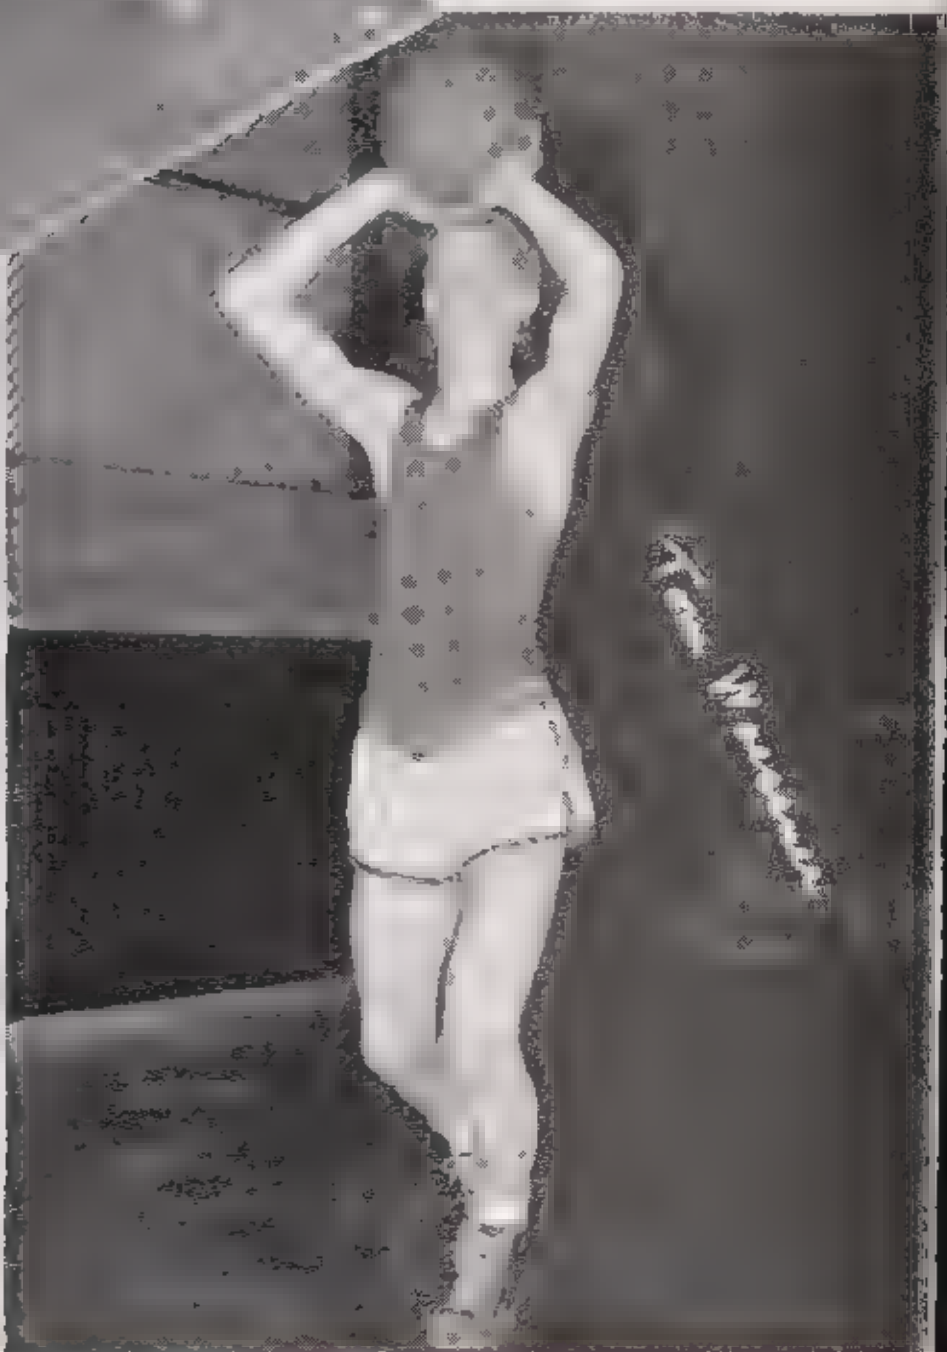

At last it was our turn to crash the win column, and Lorain St. Mary was the victim, 19-0. Rain and mud! Next came Elmore. More rain, more mud, and more touchdowns. The scoreboard read St. Wendelin 42, Visitors 0, the first time since 1941 that a St. Wendelin team had scored more than 21 points.

We were aiming for a new Mohawk record of six wins but the highly touted Lakeside Bulldogs decided otherwise. We played stellar ball that night and held the fleet backs of the opposition pretty well in check, but we had to settle for a 12-0 defeat. Oh, yes; the rain came down in torrents. At Norwalk we came through again as we whipped St. Paul in a rather weird game, 19-0. Rain, of course. Possibly the best game we played was at Sandusky St. Mary, where we led in every department, including penalties. In fact, penalties were the only thing that kept us from running the score over the 41-6 mark. NO RAIN this time.

We finished the season with Gibsonburg, and more rain. The Bears put up a stiff fight until the fading minutes of the game when we clicked off the 13-0 victory.

It should be added that half our touchdowns this year were the explosive type, coming on runs of forty yards or more. Incidentally, five wins is the most the Mohawks have ever won in a season. That was the count in 1924 when the Wendies first took to the gridiron. And that was the count this year. What could be a better way to observe the "silver jubilee?"

Cheerleaders

Cheerleading is fun and then fun some more!
Caught almost at ease here are Joan Snyder, Jane
Moran, Jane Huth, Jane Jacoby, and Emma Walters.
(There does seem to be a monopoly on the name
"Jane" in the 1949 cheering section.)
